Residents attend town hall meeting focused on downtown revitalization

by Linda Hodge, Editor

A good number of Elba citizens attended a town hall meeting last Thursday evening, July 29, to hear a presentation regarding downtown revitalization for the City of Elba.

Cheryl Morgan, an architect representing Auburn University, has been working on a plan for Elba's downtown revitalization for several months now, and she hosted the final of three town hall meetings last week to present her ideas to local residents before putting them in a final draft form.

"I invite you to walk downtown Elba," Morgan said as she began the presentation.

She said she and her team members came to Elba knowing there would be great opportunities for revitalization, and those expectations were met.

"Historic downtowns are good places for people to come when they are en route to or weather is bad for their vacation," Morgan insisted. "I think your closeness to the beach is a real asset."

Although she said many of the ideas she would present would be 5 to 10 years out from completion or longer, Morgan said the city must have a plan before it can move forward.

One market she hit heavily on is that of senior citizens.

Morgan said she believes senior citizens are a market the city can definitely expand upon, and one idea she suggested was to build a new expanded senior citizen's center.

She also suggested the development of a residential neighborhood in the area of the old school.

Morgan said the city might want to look at making the land between the levee and river into a greenway park. She said this represents some recreation opportunities and would offer more places for people to actually get down to the water.

"Your identity is so tied to the (Pea) River," said Morgan. "I think there should be more ways to get to the river."

She mentioned renovating the boat ramp and possibly building an amphitheater on the land next to this area.

Morgan said the whole purpose of this project is to give people good reasons to come to downtown Elba, and the first and most important thing will be to get "your own people downtown."

"Recreation is a good way," she said.

With that in mind, Morgan said she believes the revitalization plan should put a big emphasis on how walkable things are in downtown Elba.

"Walking and participating in the downtown is a social experience," she said. "You want to make a good impression for the people coming into the downtown."

Therefore, she said an important aspect is to showcase the things that make a person proud to come into a community such as a new senior center, a community center, renovations to the Folsom house, a possible visitor's center at the old jail and a museum.

Morgan said all of these things will not only allow Elba to celebrate its history, but they also will entice visitors to the community.

Morgan ended her presentation by fielding questions from those in attendance. She said she will send a final draft of her plan in a month or so, and it can be displayed as a reminder of what needs to be done.

At that point, she said it is up to the citizens of Elba to approach the project and begin to move forward.

Elba citizens Rhonda Brunson, Laurie Chapman and Jane Brunson discuss ideas presented by Cheryl Morgan last Thursday evening, July 29, following the town hall meeting. Morgan had several maps and other visuals on display. She presented many ideas for the downtown area in which she said she is imagining in Elba's future.

County BOE approves purchase of four buses

by Linda Hodge, Editor

During a special meeting, the Coffee County Board of Education voted Wednesday, July 28, to purchase four new buses for the school system.

Because of an increase in fleet renewal funds, Superintendent Dr. Linda Ingram recommended the board approve the purchase of four new buses instead of just three.

For buses 10-years-old or less, the school system receives fleet renewal money. In 2003-04, Ingram said the school system received $4,243 for 19 buses meeting that requirement. In 2004-05, she said the system had 18 buses qualify for $4,890 in fleet renewal money.

Altogether, the system received $168,637 in fleet renewal money for the two years.

Before last Wednesday's meeting, bids were opened for new buses, and Southland International submitted the low bid at $52,981.65 per bus.

Ingram said the school system could either buy three buses and have $9,692.05 left in reserve, or it could buy four buses by putting $43,289.60 of local funds with the fleet renewal money.

In doing this, Ingram said the system will have 21 buses available for fleet renewal next year; therefore, she recommended buying four.

Board members seemed to agree with the recommendation as they passed it by a unanimous vote.

Board members also agreed with personnel recommendations from Ingram as they passed the following actions: Certificated

- * Accept the resignation of Donna Hollis, math teacher at New Brockton High School.

- * Employ Sandy Forchard as a math teacher at New Brockton High School.

- * Employ Mike Davis as a math teacher at Zion Chapel School, pending his release from another school system.

- * Support
- * Accept the resignation of Glenda G. Haynes-White, secretary/bookkeeper at New Brockton Elementary School.

Before adjourning, Ingram also reminded board members of the ribbon cutting ceremony planned for the New Brockton High School library Thursday, Aug. 5, at 6 p.m. The library was remodeled during the summer break, and Ingram encouraged all board members to attend this ribbon cutting ceremony/reception.

BOYS BEST FRIEND...Relationships between child and animal were displayed last Thursday, July 29, when the Elba Chamber of Commerce presented "Pets on Parade." The first-time event, held at the Elba Recreation Center, allowed children ages 12 and under to "show-off" their animals' beauty and talents. Winners were named in three different divisions - small dogs, large dogs and furry friends. Although no felines could be found, an array of dogs and one rabbit were presented for admiration by the onlookers. Jantzen Elovors and his canine companion, Rock, (shown above) were entrants in the large dog division. Loyalty between handler and animal was certainly evident as Rock patiently waited for the judges to finish their inspection while Jantzen petted him. Additional pictures, including winners, can be found on Page 16 of the newspaper.

EDITORIAL

BRAINSTORMS
With Ferrin Cox

Today we are pondering another of those problems of which we have no sure fire solution. Drug prices continue to rise as does everything else. However the price of drugs are far outstripping that of other consumer goods. We recently read an article out of Washington that underscored and confirms our thoughts on this matter. In 1993 the price of prescription drugs rose three times faster than general inflation. Since President Bush signed the Medicare bill into law the increase was even sharper. Users of many brand name drugs have reported that prices skyrocketed after the federal drug program was announced. The report listed a number of (25 top sellers) established, mainstream drugs and showed increases of up to 10% just since the new bill was approved. Actually we shouldn't be surprised. And of course good lobbying by the drug companies prevents the federal government from setting the approved prices on these drugs. Look around you at anything the government subsidizes and remember the price jumps when the free market prices were taken out of the equation!

People often show a hard headed tunnel vision when talking about their children and grandchildren. A prime example was this week when a woman said - in our face, without blinking or stuttering, that her grandchildren were prettier and sweeter than ours! This is a woman we have always considered broad minded, intelligent, etc., but . . . now?

We recently read about a politician who was offended because someone had compared him to "Man's Best Friend." The fact the man was offended was brought to the attention of the leader of the opposition group and it inspired him to make an instant apology . . . to the dogs of the world and his pet in particular!

America is under alert for a terrorist attack . . . again. There has got to be a reality check in this business of warning Americans of so many pending attacks "as reported by credible sources". While the public can assume the warnings are efforts to prevent another disaster as was "9-11", the truth may be that these continued warnings and no visible danger are causing Americans to think of the child's fable that repeatedly gives false warnings that "the sky is falling". Another idea is that the terrorists don't have to get out of bed in the morning to terrorize us . . . they just allow us to "discover" some of their plans that talk about blowing up certain buildings, bridges and/or other parts of our cities.

It was a shock to hear that former Elba football coach Leon Atkins had died. We recall his first day (in 1967) as Elba's head coach when there were not enough players out for practice to field an offense and defense for scrimmage . . . he ended that season with an incredible 8-2 win-loss record.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor,
Americans should be informed the Communist Party USA endorsed John Kerry to be president of the United States on July 19.

For years the Secretary of the Communist Party USA was a man named Gus Hall. Several decades ago he made a statement about Christians that every Christian should remember.

He said "These Christians (his word) who sing about the blood. We meaning communists) will give them blood. We will slit their throats from ear to ear, and drag them across their altars and let them down in their own blood." So said Gus Hall one time Secretary of the Communist Party USA. Now, his party endorses John Kerry to be president of the United States.

This endorsement by the Communist party should alert Americans about the direction of The Democratic party. More and more we see evidence of Marxist thinking in the party. In fact, political analyst Robert Novak said the chief spokesman for the Clinton administration at its beginning was a Marxist.

Novak was talking about George Stephanopoulos who is now with ABC News. G. Gordon Liddy has said repeatedly on his radio broadcast that Hillary Clinton is a Marxist.

In his book Unlimited Access Gary Aldrich writes about the advance team sent into the White House to prepare for the change in administrations when Bill Clinton won the 1992 election. Aldrich described the team as hippie looking individuals in dress and in personal appearance. He said the thing that really shocked him was that some of them wore their Leninist pins attached to their shirts and coats.

The bible for communism is the book Karl Marx wrote entitled Das Kapital - The Capital. In this book Marx deals with surplus achieved as a result of labor and what should be done with it. The most significant point of his thesis is what to do with God. Marx said for his system of economics to be successfully implemented God has to be deconstructed.

Therein lies the fallacy of communism, and it is precisely what Ronald Reagan meant when he said the fundamental premise of communism is wrong.

John Kerry should publicly repudiate the Communist party's endorsement.

We went school shopping last week, and while Mom got a little flustered at times, I just kept my cool, waited and watched as Melanie tried on clothes and then handed them over for me to pay for. We walked at least a few miles and spent hours going in and out of stores, but I thought it went well and for the first time in years we actually came home with more than blue jeans and t-shirts. Not bad at all.

FOR WHAT IT IS WORTH...

 The Elba Tigers will dress out for pictures this week and word is that the Tigers had between 40-50 players on the field early in the week when preseason practice officially got underway. The Tigers should have more depth than they have had in years with at least half the team going only one way, and that should help keep the team fresh in the hot weather and build team unity. Back over the past few years when Elba was struggling to post a winning record I pointed to the 2004 and 2005 seasons as the years the Tigers would be back on top, and now that the season is only a few weeks away I hope I was right. One thing is certain, the excitement is back!

 This has been a summer filled with coaching changes, and it only got a little stranger last weekend when it was announced that Opp Bobcat head coach Jeff Rhoades and Opp High School assistant principal Johnny Wood had switched roles. Rhoades had been the head coach at Opp for the past four years and last season led the Bobcats to a 9-3 record, while Wood had been out of coaching for four years after being the head coach at the Opp Middle School. While the change came a little late, Wood has been at Opp since 1981 and might pump some new life into the overall program. The move may be for the best, but the timing wasn't exactly what anyone had in mind.

 The Elba Athletic Club is now in the midst of its annual membership drive and I urge all Elba Tiger fans in all sports to join the club to help finance all sports for both boys and girls. The money crunch has hit high schools hard all across the nation, and in an edition of USA TODAY last Friday an article dealt with the growing trend toward students paying fees to play sports. It was reported that there are schools in 34 states that already require students to help pay the expense of athletics, with as high as 18 percent of the schools in one state making the students pay their way. While the fees average $75-100 per sport, at one school in Ohio, students must pay $630 per sport to participate, $430 per sport for middle school athletics, $350 to be in the band and $260 to join a school club. Since I have one daughter that is very active, the bill for me would be $1,890 for her to play volleyball, softball and be a cheerleader, not counting over $1,000 to be in four clubs. We in Elba are lucky that our kids can play any sport they wish at little or no cost, and be in school clubs for only a minimal annual fee. This can only continue if the schools receive support from the public and their alumni, and that is as good a reason as I can think of for all of us joining the Elba Athletic Club today.

 In closing, the Elba Recreation Department is sponsoring "fall baseball" this year for the first time ever and one team has formed for boys ages 13-14. The team will compete against teams from other towns, with games on week nights and weekends, and will give youth that don't want to play football something to keep them busy. Hey, if they want to play they should get the chance, and maybe it will be a success and start a new fall sport for kids in many cities across South Alabama.

Elba Tigers will be only one of three new faces in Class 2A, Region 2 football line-up for 2004 season

The realignment of its member schools by the Alabama High School Athletic Association for the next two years had a major impact on the make-up of Class 2A, Region 2, as three schools left the region and three new schools moved in. Slomcomb moved up into the 3A ranks, while Red Level remained 2A, but moved into Region 1, and G.W. Long also remained in Class 2A, but made the move into Region 3. The three newcomers in Region 2 will be Elba, a long time Class 3A school, along with Cottonwood and Houston County, both of which made the move up from the 1A ranks.

Following is brief preview of each school in the region:
 Cottonwood Bears - The Bears are coached by Wiregrass veteran Willard Whitcomb and over the past two seasons have been in the playoffs in Class 1A. The Bears posted an 8-4 record a year ago and should be considered one of the favorites to take home the region title this season.
 Elba Tigers - The Tigers are coached by Scott Rials and made the move into the 2A ranks after many years as both a 4A and more recently a 3A school. The Tigers have posted only two winning seasons over the past eight years, but many feel the Tigers are ready to make big noise again this season and should be a team to watch.

 Houston Academy - The Bulldogs brought in a new coach during the summer and hope the change will help the team turn around its program that last season struggled to a 1-9 slate. The Bulldogs have posted only one winning season in recent years and while the players and coaches know the '04 season will be a struggle, it is a task they look forward to.
 New Brockton - The Raiders are coached by Rodney Dollar and in three short years have become one of the top 2A teams in the state. The Raiders posted a 10-3 record last season and made it to the third round of the state playoffs, and with a number of key players back, should be considered the team to beat in the region this season.
 Houston County - The Lions are coached by David Collins and are ready to tackle the challenge of moving up in class. The Lions posted a 5-5 record last season in the 1A ranks, but made huge strides on both sides of the ball and this season are convinced the best is on the way. The Lions may be a sleeper this season in the eight-team region.

Winners keep on winning in racing action at SAS

By Mark Chisum

The 2004 racing season at South Alabama Speedway is nearing the halfway point, which means it's time for the Midseason Championship races. Saturday night, championship races were held for three classes. Three familiar drivers, Scotty Anderson, Derek Deese, and Jerry Hudson, were standing in Victory Lane after the races.

Anderson, winner of nine Super Stock Features in 2004, took the lead from the outside front row, and led all 35 laps to win the Super Stock race. Jody Henderson, who had switched rides with Jerry Weatherington for the night, fell in behind Anderson at the start, but Heath Mills moved into second on lap four. Mills looked like he might have something for Anderson at first, but began to fade in the middle stages of the race. Henderson moved back into second on lap 23 and set sights on Anderson. His best shots at the leader came on two late restarts. Each time, Anderson was able to get a good start and held Henderson off for the win. Mills finished third, followed by Andy Pugh and David Ashley. Deese had an easy time in the Street Stock Midseason Championship. Starting on the pole, Deese took the lead from the start and built a good lead while Jeff Smith and Chad Roberts battled for second. Roberts finally worked his way past Smith on lap 17, but with the race going great, on lap 25, he couldn't overcome Deese's lead. Smith finished third, Harold Hurt fourth, and Tim Hudson fifth.

In an exciting Roadrunner Midseason race, Jerry Hudson and Jason Singletary battled all race for the win. Perry Boin took the lead at the start of the 40-lap feature. Hudson moved into the lead on the third lap. Singletary moved into second on lap six and the war was on. Running side by side for much of the race, the pair put on a show for the crowd. Singletary was able to pull ahead at the line, but lapped cars kept hindering his charge. On lap 24, the leaders went into turn one three wide around a slower car. Singletary, trying maneuver around the slower car, lost control of his ride and collected Tim Peters and Boin also. With his competition out of the way, Hudson cruise home for the win.

Death claims former Elba Tiger coach Leon Akins

The Elba Tiger football family lost one of its most popular and most successful former coaches last week when Leon Akins passed away at a health care facility in Mobile.

Coach Akins had been a resident of a health care facility for a number of years as he fought the effects of rheumatoid arthritis and died last week following complications from surgery. Akins was a graduate of Anniston High School and the University of Southern Mississippi and began his coaching career as an assistant coach at UMS, in Mobile. He remained on staff at UMS for three years, and then moved to Andalusia High School, where he was an assistant coach for two years. Akins was named as the head football coach at Elba High School in 1967 and in five years at the Elba helm led the Tigers to an overall record of 36-12-2. In 1967 Coach Akins led the Tigers to an 8-2 record, was named the Coach of the Year in the South Alabama Conference and was chosen as a coach for the Alabama High School All-Star game. Under the guidance of Coach Akins, the Tigers followed up the 8-2 season in '67 with records of 8-2 in '68, 6-3-1 in '69, 7-2-1 in 1970 and 7-3 in '71. Included among the 36 wins during Coach Akins tenure at Elba High were two wins over Enterprise. He left the Tigers after the 1971 season to return as the head coach at UMS.

"Coach Akins taught the players to be proud of their school and blended football and school pride into one powerful force," stated Coach Leavy Boutwell, an Elba grad that played under Coach Akins for four years. "I learned a lot from Coach Akins and at every school I have ever taught and coached I always encouraged every athlete to love their school and be proud to wear the school colors. Coach Akins made certain that every one of his players at Elba High School were proud to be Elba Tigers, and even after thirty-four years I am still an Elba Tiger and will be an Elba Tiger all my life."

"Coach Akins taught his players to play the game of football with dignity and was able to relate to the players and to the game," added Coach Boutwell. "Back in the late 60's he installed the wishbone offense at Elba, and at that time the only teams that ran the offense were the University of Texas and the Elba Tigers. He could adjust to the game and relate to the players. He was a big reason I chose to get into coaching and his beliefs always had a great deal to do with the kind of coach I became."

Coach Akins is survived by his wife Gen Akins; two sons, George Meador Akins and Thad Still Akins; and three brothers.

Singletary charged back through the pack to finish second with Boin third. Fourth and fifth went to Danny Monaghan and Peters.

In the Vintage Feature, Steve Stewart picked up his first win of the season. Stewart led flag to flag for the win, holding off Phillip Anderson all race.

Anderson was able to stick his nose under Stewart on several occasions, but Stewart was able to close the door, each time. Duane Bates finished third, followed by Ted Shores and Teddy Sasser. Josh Cherry picked up the win in the CupLites Feature.

Cherry led all 25 laps easily out-running second place Ken Younce Sr. Zach Hammett was third, Duane Kroger fourth, and Chris Lucas fifth.

Next week at South Alabama Speedway, a full night of racing is planned. Heats and Features are scheduled for the Super Stock, Vintage, Modified, Street Stock, and Roadrunner classes.

Farm Service Agency county committee elections open

It's election time for participants in USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) programs. The county committee election process has begun, and America's farmers, ranchers and other agricultural producers are urged to nominate local producers to serve.

"County committees play an important role in the local implementation and oversight of FSA programs," said David W. Eaddy, county executive director. "We urge all producers to participate in our local county committee elections."

Farmers who serve on county committees help ensure FSA agricultural programs adequately serve the needs of local producers. Committees make decisions on county commodity price-support loan eligibility, establishment of allotments and yields, conservation programs, disaster programs, employment and other issues. USDA is implementing an enhanced outreach program to encourage greater participation in the county election process by socially disadvantaged and minority farmers.

Any agricultural producer, who resides within the local administrative area from which a member of his or her county committee is being elected, or who is participating or cooperating in an FSA program, may become a nominee. The following are specific examples of persons who may be eligible to participate in the election process if they participate or cooperate in an FSA program: an owner, operator, tenant, or sharecropper; a spouse listed on the property deed; the spouse of an eligible voter in a community property state; a member of an Indian tribe holding agricultural land; a partner in a general partnership or member of a joint venture who has an interest in a farm as an owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper; and someone who is not of legal voting age, but who supervises and conducts the farming operations on an entire farm.

Individuals may nominate themselves or others as a candidate. In addition, eligible candidates can be nominated by community-based organizations in the county or area before the close of the nomination period, especially groups representing socially disadvantaged farmers or ranchers. Nominations and Nomination forms (FSA-699A) can be obtained from local FSA offices or USDA Service Centers or online at <http://forms.sc.egov.usda.gov/eforms/mainsevtlet>. Details on FSA COC elections can be found on the Internet at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov/pas/publications/elections>.

Producers should keep in mind several important dates regarding county committee elections. Beginning July 15, producers can request, fill out and submit nomination forms. Sept. 3 is the last day to file nomination forms. Ballots will be mailed to eligible voters on or before Nov. 8. To receive a ballot by mail, voters must register with their local FSA offices by Oct. 1. Eligible voters may also obtain ballots by visiting their local FSA office. Dec. 6 is the deadline to return ballots. Elected committee members and alternates take office on Jan. 1, 2005.

With communication lines open

New Brockton mayor asks county to work with town in resolving waterline relocation problem

by Linda Hodge, Editor

New Brockton Mayor Charles Cole addressed county commissioners Monday, Aug. 9, during the regular bimonthly meeting of the commission.

Cole said he came to the meeting to try and convey the problem regarding County Road 517.

"The problem from the beginning has been communication," he said. "We have consistently asked that someone come and talk with us."

Cole said New Brockton wants to see better roads for the citizens, but if the town works under a different budget than the county. He said the town's water board had requested the county's help in relocating the water line on County Road 517 to make way for the paving of that road; however, no one from the county had ever actually attended a water board meeting to discuss the situation with officials.

"I believe if you (commissioners) had known there was no such communication, you wouldn't have suggested going ahead and doing the work and sending us (New Brockton water board) a bill," Cole said. "You wouldn't have suggested your attorney send us a letter with a deadline to move it."

The mayor said the town officials want to work with the county just as they have in the past, and they will work with the county on this project.

"The problem from day one has been communication. There's been no communication," he said. "It's not a problem that can't be solved."

Cole said he believes New

New Brockton Water Board agrees to relocate waterline on County Rd. 517

by Linda Hodge, Editor

New Brockton Water Board members discussed, at length, the relocation of a water line on County Road 517 during the regular monthly meeting of the board Monday evening, Aug. 9.

The relocation of the water line will allow for the paving of the now dirt road.

Mayor Charles Cole began this discussion by insuring the relationship between the town and county commission is good, and there is no controversy surrounding this issue.

Cole read a letter from county engineer Randy Tindell which submitted a proposed schedule of construction for County Road 517.

According to the letter, the Coffee County Highway Department will begin clearing and grubbing on said road during the week of Aug. 16. This clearing and grubbing will facilitate the subject waterline relocation. The estimated completion of clearing and grubbing is Aug. 20.

The New Brockton Water Department will begin relocating subject waterline on or about Aug. 26. The estimated completion of relocating the waterline is Sept. 30.

The Coffee County Highway Dept. will begin grading and draining operations on said road on or about Sept. 20.

Cole said the water board had discussed relocating the line using a three inch line or a six inch line. He said the six inch line would take longer to install, but it would also allow for fire hydrants.

"We're looking at what we need and can do right now," Cole said. "That would be three inch lines which means no fire hydrants."

Max Mobley, an engineer from Brockton Water Board officials need to sit down and talk with county officials. He said the county can put in writing what it expects of New Brockton in regards to relocating the water line, and then, the town will respond in writing as to what it can do.

"I want to sit down and talk and put in writing what needs to be done," he said.

County engineer Randy Tindell reiterated that no one from either side of this issue, New Brockton officials or county officials, has taken an adversarial position regarding this matter.

He did say he had met with an employee of the New Brockton water board, but he had not

HELPING JERRY'S KIDS...Elba firefighters are in the business of saving lives, including those of individuals with one of 43 neuromuscular diseases. The local firemen spent last Saturday morning, Aug. 7, asking people to help "fill their boots" with donations going to the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). The firefighters have devoted themselves to helping MDA by collecting funds each summer to help conquer muscle disease. The proceeds raised from last weekend's drive will be used locally to provide services for individuals with neuromuscular disease to include MDA clinic visits at Baptist Medical Center, support group sessions and assistance with the purchase of medical equipment. The Fill-the-Boot efforts will also help fund vital research to find cures for over 40 neuromuscular diseases and help support the local MDA summer camp at Camp ASCCA in Jackson's Gap, Ala. Elba City Council approves recreation proposals

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City Council voted unanimously Monday night to accept a proposal to rename the Mulberry ball field to the Gaynes Waters Mulberry Ball Field. The official ceremony will be held in the Mulberry ball park at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 21st.

In case of rain, the event will be moved to the Mulberry Association Building on U.S. 84 West.

In other recreation related business council members approved Mayor James Grimes' proposal to move forward with a $150,000 grant request for new Little League ball fields on city owned property on Smith Avenue.

Grimes explained that engineering estimates on the fields were higher than expected.

Originally plans were for the City matching part of the grant would be "in kind" work such as lighting the field, etc. However this higher estimate of $199,740 could require the city to put in up to $50,000 cash as the limits on this special use grant program are $150,000, regardless of the total project costs.

Grimes pointed out that if additional problems develop before bids are let, the council can simply cancel the whole thing without suffering any financial penalties.

Council member L. M. Burch asked about adding in funds to refurbish the Mulberry park. Grimes explained that this grant program was limited and that would have to be handled from another direction. It was agreed to look into such funding.

Monthly bills totaling $73,249.17 were approved for payment.

The council officially certified District 4 council member Harold Spicer and District 5 council member Ronnie Hammond for another term in office, as both are unopposed in the upcoming municipal elections.

Pat Sharpless was named to the Elba Library Board. She will complete the unexpired term of Kathy Hathcock which expires in April 2007. Hathcock had recently resigned from the board.

The council voted to pay $12,824.20 to purchase the DARE vehicle, which had been leased for the City since August 2001 by The Peoples Bank and National Security Insurance Co. Mayor Grimes explained that this investment had been planned for in the current city budget.

Police Chief R. W. Whitworth reported that two dispatchers would be going to an E911 school soon once these two have successfully completed the training, the dispatcher staff will be 100% certified.

Elba BOE approves personnel matters before school starts

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

The Elba City School board met in special session on August 3rd for the expressed purpose of finalizing the hiring of teachers.

Only one new teacher was approved at this meeting and that is a conditional hire. Ashley Meadows was hired to teach

Spanish but will not be released from her position with the Henry County Schools this close to school starting until that school system finds a qualified replacement. Meadows lives in Crenshaw County and has been commuting to the Headland school for several years. Until Meadows does come to the Elba system, Gonsouler Lynn Weeks will teach the Spanish I class. She was the Spanish teacher several years ago.

Hired as Library Aide and J.V. cheerleader sponsor was Lisa Rials. She is the wife of new head football coach Scott Rials.

Janna Curtis will serve as Special Education Aide. She was a non-tenured teacher last year and lost that position when the system was cut several state teacher credits.

The board approved Carlos Folmar for the child Nutrition Program (lunchroom).

The board approved the return of all tenured personnel not retiring or resigning. They also approved the return of all non-tenured personnel not retiring or resigning with three exceptions. Bryce Phillips and Kay Farris were cut from Aides positions and Delva Parrish was cut from the teacher ranks. These three positions were cut due to funding cutbacks.

The board also approved a $95,000 contract with APAC for construction of a parking lot at Elba High School. This will be paid for with earmarked state funds restricted to certain construction and repair expenses.

New Brockton certifies election winners

The New Brockton Town Council officially certified winners for this year's municipal election Monday evening, Aug. 9, during the monthly council meeting. With only one candidate qualified for the mayor's position and five district seats, the current town council was able to pass a resolution of election without opposition for each spot. In doing that, each candidate was then declared the winner and certified for the seat he/she will serve the next four years. The new administration officially will fill the spots the first Monday of October. Those being elected to serve the citizens of New Brockton for the next four years are (from left): Charles B. Cole, mayor; Johnnie F. Herron, councilmember, District One; Vicki M. Harrison, councilmember, District Two; Cal Donna Howard, councilmember, District Three; Richard W. Driskell, councilmember, District Four; and I. Jeffery White, councilmember, District Five.

"We're looking at what we need and can do right now," Cole said. "That would be three inch lines which means no fire hydrants."
